

71% of Israelis believe there is a chance for regional cooperation

To what extent do you believe there is a chance for economic and political cooperation between Israel and Middle East countries and countries across the region?

